PHILLIPS'S SPRINTS WIN FOR AMHERST

Columbia's Fumbles and New England Buck Aid in Scoring Two Touchdowns.

LOCALS HUMBLER 14 TO 6

Rosen Scores for Blue and White in Third Period With Smash Through Line.

By FRIDRICK G. LIEB.

Fumbling Columbia digits and the unsteady ability of Halfback Phillips, Amherst to convert fumbles into touchdowns proved too much of a handicap for the gridders warriors of Morning-High to overcome on South Side. The game was a close one, with the two colleges in a dozen years, 14 to 6. The last time the colleges met on the football field was in 1905, the game resulting in an 11 to 11 tie.

Phillips proved to be the youth who was invariably in the right place at the right time. He also added speed to his agility. In the first period, after the elusive penguin slipped out of the hands of Houlahan on Columbia's 30 yard line, Phillips dashed to Amherst's goal and the Columbia boys could say "Jack Robinson" had ripped off the thirty yards and planted the ball behind the goal posts.

Phillips took a little rest in the second period, but he was back on the firing line when the third period started. Columbia received the ball on its own half and within one point of tying the score. The Blue and White was booming along in fine style and its followers had visions of victory in the air. When another fumble, this time by Shaw, completely changed the complexion of things.

Phillips Always Ready.

Again Phillips was "Johnny on the spot." He pounced on the ball on his own 22 yard line, keeping well to the south side of the field, spread his arms and held the ball. He was pursued by half of the Columbia team, Lester, the substitute quarterback, trying to catch him. But it was a case of Helms' championing Ed Collins. The longer the chase the wider became the gap between Phillips and Lester, and at the finish the Amherst man was able to take his own sweet time.

Columbia's game was marred with fumbles. Near the end of the first period, Canary's muffed punt, which was picked up by Blais, who had a clear field in front of him, but he was brought down on Columbia's 10 yard line. After the second quarter, the local boys had the smash the quarter ended. When play was resumed Amherst was held for down.

In fact it was a defensive play of Columbia within the shadow of its goal posts that was one of the redeeming features of the team's play. Twice in the second quarter the local boys held Amherst for down a few yards from the Amherst's objective, and a third time they secured possession of the ball when an Amherst forward pass bounded back to the hands of Lester, who had plenty of chances to try for field goals during this stage of the contest, but never attempted one.

Amherst was in strange tactics. During the first half the invariable rule was for Houlahan to punt as soon as the Blue and White got possession of the ball.

In the second half Columbia played vigorous football and made some sensational gains, especially end runs. They made five first downs, gained 100 yards and scored a touchdown. The second of which paved the way to Columbia's score.

In the fourth period Canary's electrifying crowd which was seen everywhere through a broken field for a sixty yard run, only to have the backs of it lost on a fumble. Only O'Brien, the halfback, and Blue in the class for heavyweights.

The New York mounted police gave an exhibition of fancy riding and a parade of the local college boys, the former national champion hurdler, gave a 120 yards exhibition in which chairs were used instead of the regulation obstacles. Jack was timed in 14.

LOSERS TWICE THREATEN

Special Despatch to The Sun.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 3.—Repeating its feat of two years ago, even to the exact score, Syracuse defeated Brown, 6 to 5, here on Avenue Field this afternoon. It was the first defeat of the season for the Brunonians.

Brown clearly was outplayed from the start almost to the finish. The Syracuse line had something to spare on the Brown line and the same condition existed in the backfield. M. Brown and Finsterwald outplayed the Brown backs in advancing the ball.

Time and again the Syracuse pair shot through holes opened by their own lines. The Syracuse line had something to spare on the Brown line and the same condition existed in the backfield. M. Brown and Finsterwald outplayed the Brown backs in advancing the ball.

Brown always was dangerous, however, and twice came within a hair of putting over a score. Early in the first period, after the Brown backs repeatedly failed to advance in line plunges or end runs, Gordon dropped back for a try at a field goal. Standing on Syracuse's 45 yard line the penguin sailed a 35 to 38 feet above the bar, only to be struck on the goal post by a kick from one of the upstarts and fell to one side.

Orange Within Range.

During the remainder of the first half the ball changed hands frequently. Syracuse made three first downs. Brown was unable at any time to accomplish this feat.

The opening period closed with the ball in Syracuse's possession on Brown's 10 yard line, leaving the Orange in position for the score, which Finsterwald put over in three attempts at the Brown's 10 yard line. In the second period, Meehan punted out to Schwaizer, who failed to receive it.

Through the second period Syracuse at times appeared to be in a bad way. Brown seemed to be in a bad way. Brown seemed to be in a bad way. Brown seemed to be in a bad way.

Brown's defense stiffened in the third period and Syracuse gains were reduced materially. During the last two periods the Orange seldom made first downs on straight football than before. Gordon, Albright and Brooks, towers of strength on defense, were unable to make a mistake in the line.

Huggins Fails in Pinch.

Brown's second opportunity to score came near the close of the third period, after Huggins had replaced Coulter at the Syracuse line. Brown's defense stiffened in the third period and Syracuse gains were reduced materially.

STEVENSON RETAINS ITS CLEAN SLATE

Adids Worcester Tech to List of Victims, Winning by 82 to 0.

FORD'S PLAYING FEATURE

Special Despatch to The Sun.

Stevens Tech's eleven remained unbeaten today. The Hoboken engineers yesterday trounced Worcester Polytechnic's gridders in a smashing victory, played game on the gridiron at Castle Point Field by a score of 82 to 0.

Despite fumbles and occasional plays which failed, the Stevens men had no trouble in beating their opponents. Only in the second quarter, with the score at 7 to 0 against them, did the Massachusetts invaders show fight. Then, profiting by a Stevens kick that went wrong, they made a first down by plunging through the ranks of the heavier team.

Goodale, halfback, who has been the star of the Hoboken team in previous years, was the first to get the ball. He was the first to get the ball. He was the first to get the ball.

Ford's Work Features.

It was due chiefly to the battering ram head of Ford, the fullback, that the first touchdown was scored. Time after time in the first quarter the hard worker, who had been in the line, took the lead down and went through the ranks of the Worcester men like a goat through a lodge meeting.

Blocked Kick Aids Engineers.

The other touchdown, following shortly, occurred after Worcester, having been penalized for a foul, took the lead down and went through the ranks of the Worcester men like a goat through a lodge meeting.

Cornell Harriers Carry Off Team Honors in Chase

Defeat Penn and Carnegie Tech in Triangular Run—Capt. Dresser Leads Field From Start to Finish.

SPILLS IN BICYCLE RACE

Special Despatch to The Sun.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Cornell's runners were easy winners in the triangular cross-country run here today. They scored 44 points to 78 for Pennsylvania and 160 for Carnegie Tech, whose first man to finish, Mosier, was in twelfth place. The Ithacans sent four men over the finish line in the first six and their entire team of seven scored in the first eleven laps.

Capt. I. C. Dresser, the only veteran on the Cornell team, ran a magnificent race. He took the lead at the start and never was headed. Moffat and Cunningham of Penn and Spear of Cornell stuck close to the fleet Ithacan for the first part of the race, while Maynard and Croston of Cornell were in the rear.

Dresser began to fall away in the third mile, was ten yards to the good in the fourth, and when he had the lead in the fifth mile he was ten yards to the good in the sixth mile.

Harvard Again Wins Williams Checked in Scoreless Tie by Wesleyan Team.

Special Despatch to The Sun.

MINNEAPOLIS, Conn., Nov. 3.—Wesleyan and Williams played a scoreless tie on Andrus Field this afternoon. The game was a pretty one, with the Wesleyan team showing a number of plays pulled off by Boynton, the Williams quarterback, and the dogged persistence of Wesleyan to thwart the attempts of the Wesleyan team to score.

FRICK RUNS CLEVER RACE IN ARMORY

Leads Big Field in 1,000 Yard Contest in Macdowell Lyceum Games.

SPILLS IN BICYCLE RACE

Special Despatch to The Sun.

Eddie Frick, the New York Athletic Club middle distance runner, ran one of his clever races in winning the 1,000 yard handicap race at the games of Macdowell Lyceum in the Seventy-first Regiment Armory last night.

On the scratch mark with Frick was Sidney Leslie of the Thirtieth Regiment and Jack R. Sellers of a club named the "Scratchers." Leslie started running after two laps, while Sellers, badly pocketed for the greater part of the journey, finished second.

Several spills, in which the riders were badly shaken up but not injured, enlivened the running of the three mile handicap race. The winner, Frick, went to William Van Don Dries of the New York Athletic Club, who jumped Al Krushel, a clubmate, two laps from him, to hold his position and win by two wheels' length. The summary:

1. Eddie Frick (A. A. U. Handicap) Won by 2 laps. Time 15:10.2. Al Krushel (Scratch) Second. Time 15:10.3. Jack R. Sellers (Scratch) Third. Time 15:10.4.
